WORLD ROWING

Dear Rowing Friends,

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to the 2026 World Rowing Under 23 Championships in Duisburg, Germany – a city with a deep-rooted connection to water, sport, and industrial heritage, and home to one of the most iconic regatta courses in the world.

The Duisburg Regatta Course stands as a proud symbol of rowing history and continuous innovation. From its early beginnings as a gravel and sand excavation site in the 1920s to its transformation into a world-class venue, Duisburg has long embraced the spirit of progress and excellence. Since the first rowing regatta was held here in 1935, the venue has played host to numerous milestone events – including the European Championships in the 1950s and 60s, and the World Rowing Championships in 1983. With recent upgrades such as the warm-up canal, modernised boat sheds, and a brand-new finish tower and regatta building in 2025, Duisburg is once again ready to welcome the world.

Jean-Christophe Rolland
President, World Rowing

The World Rowing Under 23 Championships represent the energy and ambition of a new generation of rowers – athletes who stand at the threshold of elite competition and embody the future of our sport. This event is not only a celebration of emerging talent but also of the support systems, communities, and legacies that make such journeys possible.

At World Rowing, we believe in providing athletes with the best possible platforms to thrive, and the 2026 Championships in Duisburg promise to do just that. I would like to express our sincere thanks to the local organising committee, the City of Duisburg, and all volunteers and supporters whose efforts bring this event to life.

May these championships inspire, challenge, and unite us, on the water and beyond.

Yours sincerely,
Jean-Christophe Rolland

Regatta Duisburg

Dear Rowing Family

I am delighted to invite you on behalf of the Duisburg Regatta club and the German Rowing Federation to the 2026 World Rowing Under 23 Championships at our beautiful regatta venue in Duisburg, Germany.

Twenty-five years after hosting the 2001 World Rowing Junior Championships, we eagerly anticipate welcoming the global rowing community once again. Over the years, we have hosted numerous national and international regattas and undertaken extensive modernization efforts to ensure a world-class infrastructure for this prestigious event.

This year marks the completion of our latest upgrades. Over the past two years, we have rebuilt our office area and finish tower to meet the highest standards required for such a competition. Our grandstand has also undergone a complete renovation, now offering sheltered seating to provide optimal conditions for spectators, regardless of the weather. This project completes the comprehensive modernization of our venue, which began in 2006 with the construction of our side channel connecting the finish area to the start, and included the modernization of our boat storage area, sanitary facilities, and accommodation options, completed in 2017.

Tobias Weysters

President of the OC, Regatta Duisburg

With these enhancements, we are excited to open our modern venue to the global rowing family for the 2026 World Rowing Under 23 Championships. We warmly invite you to join us for thrilling races and to witness the emergence of the next generation of elite athletes.

Organising such a prestigious event requires significant effort and would not be possible without the invaluable support of our partners and volunteers, who have consistently contributed to the success of our regattas. We deeply thank these dedicated organizations and individuals for their unwavering commitment and hard work.

We look forward to fair competition, close races, and a fantastic week with the World Rowing family at our wonderful regatta course in Duisburg, Germany.

Dear rowing friends,

In just under a year, the 2026 World Rowing Under 23 Championships will be hosted by North Rhine-Westphalia, the No. 1 sporting state in Germany. A top-class sporting event is once again taking place in our sport-loving state. More than five million people take part in around 17,000 sports clubs here. Countless medallists come from North Rhine-Westphalia – at the Olympic and Paralympic Games as well as at international and national championships. This is the home of top international sport. And because everything that makes sport so exciting comes together here, we have set ourselves a major goal:

we want to host the Olympic and Paralympic Games on the Rhine and Ruhr.

The regatta course in Duisburg with its long tradition is one of our state's most beautiful sports venues. The international rowing and canoeing elite have been meeting here for 90 years, always cheered on enthusiastically by a passionate audience. The Rhine-Ruhr 2025 FISU World University Games have just been hosted here. An unforgettable experience for everyone! We in North Rhine-Westphalia and you in Duisburg have often proven that we are excellent hosts for international sporting events.

We will also demonstrate this at the 2026 World Rowing Under 23 Championships at one of the world's most important rowing venues.

My heartfelt thanks already go to those responsible and to the helping hands on site. They will ensure that athletes and spectators experience an unforgettable event. I am already looking forward to the competition and wish you all the best until then!

Its rich history includes the 1983 World Rowing Championships, numerous World Rowing Cup events, and the 2020 European Rowing Under 23 Championships. This purpose-built artificial lake – 2,180 meters long and 120 meters wide – has been regularly modernized, ensuring it meets the highest standards for competitive rowing. Recent and ongoing improvements, including the complete rebuild of the regatta office building and finish tower, underscore Duisburg's commitment to providing a world-class venue.

This prestigious championship serves as a critical stepping stone for young athletes who are on the cusp of senior international success. It provides an unparalleled platform for these rowers to showcase their skills, gain invaluable experience on a global stage, and contend for coveted world titles in a multitude of boat classes.

History of the Duisburg Regatta Course

In 1873, the Krupp company (today ThyssenKrupp AG) bought the site, which is now known as the “Sportpark Duisburg”, from the German state. Krupp needed gravel and sand for the construction and operation of its own steel industry. So, in the 1920s, sand and gravel extraction began at the current location of the regatta course. At the beginning of the 1930s, one of the resulting lakes was dredged to create a 2000 m long regatta course. In July 1935, the first rowing regatta was held on the Duisburg regatta course.

The first major international competition was the European Rowing Championships in 1957, which were held there again in 1965. Today’s grandstand and a modern and larger regatta house with a finish tower were built for the 1979 Canoe Sprint World Championships. The new facilities were also used four years later for the 1983 World Rowing Championships. The regatta course underwent the next major change in 2006 and 2007 when the warm-up canal was dredged parallel to the regatta course. With the complete modernization of the boat sheds on the east bank in 2018 and the construction of the new regatta building including a new finish tower in 2025, the Duisburg regatta course is one of the most modern regatta courses in the world.
